KNIGHTS HOLD ON

Further Hostilities Deferred
Until the General Executive Board Has Acted.

To-Morrow's Meeting at Detroit to Begin or End a Great Fight.

Central Freight and Passenger Trains Moving Freely To-Day.

Webb Estimates the Vanderbilts' Losses at $250,000.

Twenty-Three of the Freight-Handlers at the Thirty-Third Street Yard Return.

Local Knights of Labor officials remain passive to-day against the New York Central, while freight and passenger trains were moved freely from various points.

Master Workman Lee and Committeeman Valentine remained on the scene, but could give no information as to what would be done to continue the strike.

They are placing their reliance upon tomorrow's meeting of the order in Detroit, when the whole question at issue with the Vanderbilts will be submitted to the General Executive Board.

If the Board, which controls the Order all over the United States, sustains the action taken by the local officials, it will necessarily inaugurate an aggressive campaign. If, on the other hand, it counsels peace, the tie-up will be officially declared off.

Master Workman Valentine was seen by an EVENING WORLD reporter and declared emphatically that the Knights have given in or considered themselves defeated because of the refusal of the locomotive engineers and firemen to respond to the call to abandon their work in sympathy with the strikers.

"This strike is not yet over," he added, "nor will it be until the Central people accede to our requests. That fight is on for good so long as the Company deny us every request."

"We wanted the trouble settled by arbitration but Mr. Webb declines to do this. Our men are strong and as determined as ever to win this fight. We have the sympathy of all labor organizations, and if we are defeated it will not be the first defeat for organized labor."

"The Central management is too sug-nauine. The fight is not ended, and there will be developments to-morrow that will surprise some people."

WAITING FOR TO-MORROW.

It is the general belief to-day that the present serenity and apparent smoothness of things are nothing but the lull before a storm—a tempest that means the general tie-up of the entire Vanderbilt system, including the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central, the Canadian Southern and the newly acquired line which is the feeder to the Northwest, the Chicago and Northwestern.

The impression at the Knights' headquarters this morning was that no new move will take place in the nature of further tie-ups until the General Executive Board meeting in Detroit to-morrow.

The EVENING WORLD reporter was told that when J. J. Holland, member of that Board, was here he saw that the tremendous power of the Vanderbilts was threatening dire consequences for the Knights, and that their combined influences were proving too much for District Assembly No. 246, which ordered the strike.

General Secretary Hayes hurried to New York, and after spending Sunday in consultation with Master Workman Lee it was decided that no further strike be ordered until action was taken by the General Executive Board at their quarterly meeting to-morrow.

Consequently Messrs. Holland and Hayes started post haste for Detroit yesterday morning.

Therefore no further action on the present strike has been suspended and the General Executive Board will assume control of affairs as soon as they come together.

Master Workman Lee and Valentine are merely waiting instructions, and it is believed that the entire order of the Knights of Labor will be appealed to for sympathy, co-operation and contribution.

While there have been no positive as-urances that other labor organizations railroad service will come to the assistance of the Knights on the Central system, it is understood that they have signified their willing assent to do so.

Notices and appeals have been disseminated throughout all the labor unions in this section and the Knights say that they can provide for the sustenance of the members for a month if necessary.

THINGS MOVING ON TIME.
There was every indication of quietness and regularity around the Grand Central Depot this morning and the usual mob of travelers was visible.

Two or three of the Hudson River Division of the depot have been turned into sleeping apartments, and Vice-President Webb and General Manager Toney have bunked in them instead of going to their homes.

WEIRD SAYS IT'S OVER.
Vice-President Webb had just finished his toilet this morning when he received an EVENING WORLD reporter.

"Why everything is just as lovely as could be expected," he enthusiastically remarked.

"We have mended the backbones of the strike, if it ever had any backbone. It is over as far as we are concerned, but of course it will take a week or ten days to get things in shape again."

"We have been running our trains quite regularly, but from to-day the entire passenger service will resume its normal condition."

"The freight service moves again today, and with our road clear through to Buffalo I do not see how we can help, but start up again in a few days. We will be the men we want, and there is every prospect that business will boom again."

Mr. Webb added that the Company's losses from the strike were not over $250,000. He showed the reporter a despatch from the Company's agent at Syracuse, stating that the freight and passenger service had been resumed at that point and was going through all right.

STRIKERS BLACKLISTED.
There is little or no chance of the strikers resuming their old places if the course of things the Knights will be responsible for. General Manager Toney said this morning that under no condition would the strikers be reinstated.

That a number of men were almost indispensable he admitted, but the fact of their abandoning their work at a critical moment entitled the disservice of the Company against them.

A WOMAN VOLUNTEERS.
Mr. Toney said he had received a letter from a wife of a former deceased employee, applying for the position of trainman. The woman said she had been always treated well by the company, and she was willing to offer her services to the management in its hour of need.

INCOMING TRAINS LATE.
The regular morning trains left the Grand Central Depot this morning each a few minutes late.

The various incoming trains were all very late. No. 10, due at 6 o'clock was thirty minutes behind time; No. 8, due at 6:15, twenty minutes late; No. 22, due at 7 o'clock, was forty minutes late, and No. 10, which reaches the Grand Central at 8:30 o'clock, did not arrive until 9:15.

The delay was due to the fact that the outward freight trains were held up by the fact that the freight cars were not out have reinforced the three towers, and are working to the satisfaction of General Manager Platt. The making up of trains is done much slower and more cautiously than usual.

STILL PROTECTED BY POLICE.
Inspector Williams with four sergeants and a squad of about one hundred men, are still guarding the depot, though the big Inspector feels that he could elsewhere be better employed.

HOPING FOR ARBITRATION.
There was another movement on foot this morning among the well-known labor leaders to force Vice-President Webb to allow the State Board of Arbitration to settle the present trouble.

George Murray, Master Workman of District Assembly No. 49, and James P.
Archibald, the newly chosen head of the Citizens' movement, have been holding conferences with the men this morning, and it is understood that they are engaged in devising means to induce the young Vice-President to change his mind and let the difference be arbitrated.

State Commissioner of Arbitration Florence Donovan has left all hope of settling the matter to-day, and has settled the trouble, and has left the city.

He went to Birmingham this morning leaving word that if his presence was required he would immediately return to this city.

The absence of all violence on the part of the men and the peaceful attitude they have taken have made many friends for them, and it is the aim of the leaders to keep them from all feelings of revenge or violence.

STRIKERS IN MASS MEETING.
Meetings were in progress this morning at various places and the men are manifested in the expectation of winning the fight.

Very new members were initiated this morning at the headquarters of the local assembly at Forty-third street and Third avenue.

A mass-meeting of the strikers has been arranged for this afternoon at Wendell's Assembly Rooms, Forty-fourth street and Ninth avenue. Prominent labor leaders will attend the meeting.

Freight handlers went to work at the Sixty-fifth and Thirty-third street yards, and a long freight train was moved for the first time since Friday.

Police were on hand, but there was no disturbance.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.
Business Resumed at the Thirty-third Street Freight-Yard.

All was bustle and excitement this morning at the Thirty-third street freight-yard. It was the bustle and excitement of business, however, and not the disturbance which might be occasioned by a riotous demonstration.

A dozen or more locomotives were puffing and snorting about the yards, pushing and pulling the freight cars about, making up trains for St. John's Park and Sixty-fifth street.

There were a few strikers about, or at least as before the many trains for old hands had returned to work. So General Agent Haskell's private secretary reported.

A gentleman was much elated over the outlook and announced that the freight business of the road would be proceeded with as before the strike, and a schedule was being made for the freight trains.

We are receiving and delivering freight at St. John's Park to-day," said he, and was moving freight all along the line to Brooklyn.

Although Agent Haskell's man was very sanguine that the resumption of business would be complete, up to 10 o'clock this morning no freight train had arrived at or departed from the yard.

Passenger traffic between Spuyten Duyvil and the Thirtieth street depot was believed that the entire order of the
sympathy, co-operation and contribution.

While there have been no positive as-
railroad service will come to the assistance of the Knights on the Central sys-
nified their willing assent to do so.

this section and the Knights say that they twenty minutes for dinner, and were obliged to do the best they could for dinner in the cheap restaurants of the neighborhood.

SERENITY AT THE WEST SHORE.
All Trains Running and Official Anxiety Disappearing.

The appearance of the West Shore Railroad depot at Weehawken this morning was the same as any day when business is brisk, and there were no signs of the anxiety shown during the time when it was thought they were hovering on the borders of a big strike.

Answering an EVENING WORLD reporter's interrogatories as to how things were moving, General Supt. Bradley said with a merry twinkle:

"Oh! we are all right, and things are moving splendidly. You know we were never bothered by an instant in our passenger service although, of course, Saturday night and Sunday our freights were delayed by the defection of a number of freight rakersmen and conductors.

But we've managed to send our freight trains along, and now we are as perfectly equipped as we ever were in this section of our traffic. We don't fear anything at all now."

It was true enough that an air of peaceful serenity pervaded the great train house, and going trains and express were coming and going with accustomed regularity and precision.

The usual 5:25 freight for Kingston went out on this morning, and a couple of express when asked to said they did not believe the strike could last much longer, certainly as far as the West Shore was concerned. They were sure all inconvenience was entirely at an end.

JERSEY CENTRAL QUIETUDE.
The Men Apparently Glad That They Didn't Strike.

There was not the slightest indication of trouble on the Jersey Central Railroad this morning, although an attempt was made by some of the New York Central strikers last night to get some assurance that their Jersey brethren would help them by going out this morning.

It is possible that had the Jersey Central employees been called upon to go out yesterday they would have done so, but in view of the changes that have taken place in the last twenty-four hours they can see now that they would be only in the way of the New York Central men.

"The fact of the matter is," said an employee on the Jersey Central road, "that an EVENING WORLD reporter this morning, 'the power of the Knights of Labor is gone, as this strike shows. The order is done much slower and more cautiously than usual."

No railroad strike can be successful that does not include every man in the road's employment. This was shown in the case of the New York Central, and engineers and firemen were beaten because the Knights would not help them, and it is shown again now that the Knights have become the engineers and firemen refuse to aid them," he concluded.

No New York Central freight is being handled on the Jersey Central road, as the officials do not desire to give their men the slightest pretext to go on strike.

POLICE CAPTAINS RECALLED.
Their Vacations Stopped, Though Byrnes Says the Strike is Ending.

"The end of the strike is near at hand," said Inspector Byrnes, Acting Superintendent of Police, at 7 o'clock this morning. "It certainly will not last another forty-eight hours, and may be all over before this time to-morrow."

The Inspector said he based his opinion on the reports that had reached him early this morning from his aides—Inspectors Steers, Williams and Conlin—who were still at their posts. He had also had reassuring messages from the officers of the force.

Police Commissioners MacLean, Voorhis and Martin were at Headquarters last evening, Voorhis and Martin remaining chaired with Inspector Byrnes in the Superintendent's room until after midnight.

Just what the purport of this protracted conference was was not known, but Inspector Byrnes said that the strike had been pending strike had much to do with it.

A general plan of procedure, it is said, has been decided upon by the police, and the Acting Superintendent declared it expedient to recall some of the members of the Department who were on vacation, and to recall Captain Thompson, O'Connor, Siebert and Murphy returned to-day.

We do not intend to give the strikers an inch of way, said the Inspector, and for that reason the whole Department will be kept in readiness to respond at a moment's call.

Without exception of a few minor offenses, such as the drawing of inchpins from cars over on the west side, or the tightening of brakes, no overt acts have characterized the efforts of the strikers.

"Even these acts are not clearly attributed to the strikers, but may be the work of hoodlums congregating at different points of the road."

"Of course," continued the Inspector, "we want our policy to make arrests for such trivial offenses, for while policemen were away at the station-house, their prisoners and other more serious acts might have been committed."

"There have been very few changes made in the disposition of the police force, and all points where trouble might occur are as strongly guarded as they were at the beginning of the strike."

Taken altogether, said the Inspector, "the situation is not very serious, with no hard feelings toward the strikers, despite their long hours, and no violence will be used unless the strikers themselves bring it about."

The Inspector, who has not been away from Headquarters since last Friday, said that he and his men intend to continue the fight until the end, which he has every reason to believe will soon be reached.
